SENSITIVE "BIG BILL."

Dislikes the Bad Company He Finds in Prison.

Boston, Feb. 2.—The petition of William C. Woodward known to criminals as "Big Bill Hawley," for a writ of habeas corpus, in order that he may be released from state prison, was denied yesterday by Judge Brown in the United States circuit court. This makes the third decision adverse to Woodward that has been reached recently by the United States court.

Taking the stand in his own behalf, Woodward objected to his imprisonment because he was compelled to associate with felons, whereas he had been confined merely for committing a misdemeanor.

"I do not object to the labor," he said, "but to the associations in the prison. There are bad men there with whom I am compelled to mingle." After the petition, which was based in part upon the contention that his sentence to the state prison was illegal, had been denied, Woodward stated publicly that everything had been done to procure his freedom.

"Think of a man like me being confined with a lot of felons," he added. "It is not right."

Woodward has served time in other states and he is now under sentence aggregating five years in state prison for using the mails to promote schemes to defraud the public.

Contractor J. W. Dornais of Burlington, who is building the marble chapel and receiving vault at Green Mount cemetery, Montpelier, says that the reason why granite was not used in the construction was because of the almost prohibitive freight rates on that material from the Barre quarries to Montpelier. He added that quarrymen on the Hill have hundreds of carloads of granite, suitable for building purposes, which they would almost give away, but the freight rates are so high that builders cannot afford to take the stone away.

Paddock Overcoats!

The Paddock Overcoat is the swellest garment made in the Overcoat line. It is distinctly a high-toned Coat. It's a hard garment to make, and to look right must be worked out by the hands of experts. Our Paddocks are hand-tailored from the finest imported and domestic materials, and made by the best tailors in the trade. We invite the attention of fashionable dressers to our line of Paddock Overcoats. A little more expensive than the regular Overcoat, to be sure, but they are worth all we ask for them—$20.00, $22.00 to $25.00. We never heard of a smart dresser who would part with his Paddock at any price, provided he had the correct kind, and that means our kind.
